

Python Developer

Bratislava, Slovakia

Are you a talented developer with a passion for food? At our company, Streamline s.r.o., we're not here to just talk the talk; we're here to walk the walk and bite the byte. We're an experienced team whose vision is clear: to assist restaurants in optimizing operations through data-driven strategies, help them reach profitability again, and make dining out a breeze while putting the joy back into running restaurants.

Our flagship project, BiteBerry, is a game-changer. We're using AI technology to simplify food ordering through voice and chat. But that's just the appetizer. Our menu is packed with innovative product ideas that we are planning to build and launch in the upcoming months and years. Since we are still at the beginning of our journey, this is indeed the most exciting period to start with us!

About the role

As a Senior Python Developer at BiteBerry, you'll be pivotal in shaping our technological landscape, focusing on real-time audio data processing using the Tornado framework. With your expertise in Python and real-time systems, you'll tackle challenging problems and develop robust, scalable backend solutions in a dynamic startup environment. You can work from home or from our office in Skypark Bratislava where we guarantee a super friendly environment.
