

Ruby on Rails Developer

Bratislava, Slovakia

Are you a talented developer with a passion for food? At our company, Streamline s.r.o., we're not here to just talk the talk; we're here to walk the walk and bite the byte. We're an experienced team whose vision is clear: to assist restaurants in optimizing operations through data-driven strategies, help them reach profitability again, and make dining out a breeze while putting the joy back into running restaurants.

Our flagship project, BiteBerry, is a game-changer. We're using AI technology to simplify food ordering through voice and chat. But that's just the appetizer. Our menu is packed with innovative product ideas that we are planning to build and launch in the upcoming months and years. Since we are still at the beginning of our journey, this is indeed the most exciting period to start with us!

About the role

As a Ruby on Rails backend developer at BiteBerry, you will play a crucial role in shaping the technological backbone of our innovative projects. Your primary focus will be on developing robust, efficient, and scalable backend solutions. We are looking for an experienced developer who not only possesses strong technical skills but also thrives in a dynamic startup environment. You can work from home or from our office in Skypark Bratislava where we guarantee a super friendly environment.
